COLOR LEGEND:

Color A
Color B
Color C
Color D

*if there is a G indicated in the square, this is where I like to add in a white glow-in-the-dark yarn, but it is optional. You can use the same white as the others instead.

I used a sparkly black, inspired by Alex from Prom Night! Also, feel free to change up the background color – maybe you have an overall feel for the blanket if you are stitching a bunch of blocks together?

WRITTEN PATTERN:

The best part of these graph patterns is that you can use any weight of yarn you would like. I like to stick with using the hook the yarn manufacturer recommends on the packaging, and using the same weight and brand for the entire block if you can.

Begin from the bottom left corner – row 1, as shown on the chart. Turn and continue with row 2 from left to bottom. Turn and continue with row 3 bottom to left, etc.

L = LEFT

B = BOTTOM

R = RIGHT

For each of the squares in each row, the letter indicates the color – see the corresponding color legend above. The number indicates how many squares of that color you need to make. For example, A6 = color A in the next 6 squares. The number in brackets at the end references the total number of squares for that row.

Here's the picture without the G's in his eyes, so it looks a little less strange...
